SAMUEL AYERS.
FORMERLY OF DANVILLE, KENTUCKY.
WATCH MAKER.
Successor to B. F. Meek, Main Street, Frankfort, Ky., continues the watch repairing business at the old stand. By promptness and careful work he hopes to merit the patronage of those who desire to have their watches repaired without damage being done them. Surveyors' compasses repaired and other instruments requiring delicate and accurate adjustment.

In retiring from business in Frankfort I take pleasure in expressing my entire confidence in Mr. S. Ayers, and from my long acquaintance with him as a workman, do not hesitate to commend him as every way capable of meeting the expectation of my former patrons.

Rev. James Groves preached at the school house last Sunday.

Mr. W. M. Smith, jr., has sold his farm to Mr. Dock Quire. Price $600.

Mr. Milton Moore is attending Common Pleas Court this week as a jurymen.

Mr. Charles Brawner has about completed his new farm. Mr. J. W. Gilpin contractor.

Messrs Corlie Smith and Della Brawner were the guests of Miss Agnes Chism last Sunday.

Mr. Than. Moore has his steam grist mill in operation and is ready to wait upon his customers.

Mr. F. M. Smith has about completed a new cottage on his farm on the Bald Knob pike. Messrs W. S. Brawner and Buck Smith did the job.

On Monday night, while returning from Frankfort, Mr. Henry McDaniel ran a coon up a tree near the residence of Mr. Milton Moore, and summoning the neighbors with a dog a first class coon hunt was soon on hand. The tree was cut down, but his coonship succeeded in getting into another before the dog got at him, and the second tree had to be felled. In the first round the coon whipped the dog and succeeded in getting into a branch, where one of the bark eaters I have ever seen took place, and resulted in the death of the coon.

Dear Mr. Editor:
As I have but little news to report this week, please give space in the columns of your spicy little paper to the following thoughts upon intemperance:

As there are many fields in which we may labor, and while we are at work for the educational advancement of the rising generation let us not forget that the dreadful monster of intemperance is wielding its influence in our land daily. Yes, it stalks abroad at noonday, and even when the tranquil evening is about to enfold us in its arms intemperance is sure to appear and disturb the solemnity. He prowls at midnight hour and disturbs many a family that is slumbering quietly. Behold the misery that it causes the wife whose husband is given to drink, causing the bonds of union to be broken sunder; and the weeping mother for her son, when she finds that he is a member of King Biber's army, wending down to the grave. Young men, beware of intemperance, for you are the unlucky ones who suffer from the effects of intemperance. Oh, you think you will never die a drunkard and fill a drunkard's grave. I hope you will not, but perhaps you will begin to drink by drops until you are the unfortunate one, and then all too late for your life is filled with those who die drunkards, and this is the way by which so many are annually filling drunkard's graves. It is King Alcohol that causes our State Prisons and jails to be filled with criminals, and why not speak a word against intemperance, and lend a helping hand to wars banishing it from our land.

Point Pleasant.

Pumpkins and cossens next.

Hog's head and hennin are ripe now.

Mr. Thomas, Hopper, of Shelby county, visited Hawk Eye Sunday last.

Mr. James Russell is getting along finely with his new house. Says he will move Sunday.

Mr. J. B. Harrod, of Harp, visited the point Friday, and was the guest of R. J. Shannon.

There is still some cases of whooping cough in our neighborhood, but none very bad.

Messrs. W. B. Rogers and Isaac Deakins, of Scribble, were the guests of Hawk Eye Monday night.

Everybody is now busily engaged, some at one thing and some at something else, and some busy doing nothing.

Mr. Wilson Miles, of Consolation, Shelby county, visited the point Saturday and Sunday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Shannon.

Rusty Cass, what is the matter with you? You passed through the point a short time ago and did not stop. Come Rusty, do not go back on a fellow that way. Call.

There is a man near the Point that says he bought a bushel of turnips, and many of them would weigh fifteen and twenty lbs. They are the largest I ever heard of.

Mr. Ed. Stivers says he can recollect very well when his hair (which now is jet black) was red. He is a young man yet, only about twenty-one years old, and is reliable and truthful.

Mr. John Russell says the people need not take his word for it, but to go to the Quarry Springs and stay as long as he did and if that does not give them good appetites it would be needless to try anything else.

Mr. George Finck visited his daughter, Mrs. Updyke, last Sunday, to see his little grandson, Jimmie, who is yet confined to his room, and another bone has worked out of his leg. The little fellow is a good soldier, for he never complains of his leg hurting him.

Mr. Thomas Hulet does not think toad frogs will make good preserves. While he was making marmalade a frog jumped into the pan and he says when he fished him out all the skin was off him. But still he says it is a good way to skin frogs, but he does not want any more of his.

We saw Col. Dave Moore pass through the Point this week with a load of lumber; that is, another man was doing the hauling for the Colonel. The man was driving two horses with checks and Col. Dave was riding the lead horse and driving it. The horse seemed to have a load without being harnessed to the tongue of a wagon and compelled to pull.

Last Friday morning a gentleman started to mill with a two-horse team before day, and a neighbor wishing to get him to carry a sack of wheat for him hearing, the team coming, and not wishing to detain the driver in the cold, jumped out of the bed, shouldered up his sack and ran out to the pike in his night clothes and barefooted. He says it was the coldest morning he ever experienced.

A Frankfort merchant, while out hunting shot at some birds and some of the stray shot took effect in the person of Mr. W. S. Chambers, who was not far off, but the hunter did not see him. Two shot struck Mr. Chambers in the face and one in the hand, causing him some pain, but not any dangerous. The hunter, when he saw what he had done, went to Mr. Chambers to see if he was badly hurt. Mr. C. says the hunter was worse scared than he himself was. He said he'd be down if he wasn't going home and hunt no more, if that was his luck.

HAWK EYE.

Precautions to Use Against Small-Pox.

We have received the following circular from the State Board of Health, which we insert for the benefit of our readers, being a matter of great importance just at the present time:

(STATE BOARD OF HEALTH OF KENTUCKY.)
BOWLING GREEN, KY., NOV. 1883.
To the Local Boards of Health and People of the State of Kentucky.

The State Board of Health desires to call earnest attention to the fact that Small-Pox, in a severe and fatal form, is now prevailing in large numbers of our own State, and in cities of adjoining States, so intimately connected with us by the lines of travel as to constantly threaten fresh introductions of the disease. Unless unusual precautions are taken by our city, town and county health authorities to prevent such importation and the spread of this disease the experience of last winter is likely to be repeated on a much larger scale.

This Board, therefore, feels it to be its duty to warn the people that decisive action should at once be taken to protect the State from this loathsome malady. Fortunately the method of prevention is as certain in its action as it is cheap and easy to obtain. Vaccination and re-vaccination, properly done, with reliable virus, is a certain prevention, and is entirely free from danger. This is the conclusion of the scientific world, after full investigation and large experience, and may be thoroughly relied upon.

Notwithstanding that this safe, cheap and perfect protection is within the reach of all, it is estimated that nearly one-third of the people of this State have never availed themselves of it. It is hoped that the next Legislature will make vaccination compulsory, but intelligent persons should not wait for the law to force them to an evident duty. No one should allow himself, or any one for whom he is responsible, to remain unvaccinated at any time, and especially in the face of the present danger. Health and school boards, everywhere, should co-operate in requiring vaccination as a condition of admission to all schools, public and private, and the proprietors of manufacturing and mercantile establishments should make the requirement of their employees. The operation should always be done by a competent physician, at three points in the same arm, and the person vaccinated should be seen by him from time to time, that he may know that a perfect result has been secured. Imperfect vaccination can only give rise to a false and often fatal sense of security.

As a further precaution, the various health boards of the State, county and municipal, are requested to perfect their organizations, make every preparation to prevent the importation of the disease into the communities over which they have control, or, failing in this, be ready to stamp it out by strictly isolating the first case, and vaccinating and re-vaccinating every person endangered by it. It would be well for health boards in localities not provided with hospitals to have in view some suitable cottage which could be used as a hospital in case of emergency. All carpets, curtains, stuffed furniture, clothing, and other articles not required for immediate use should be removed from rooms intended for use of persons affected with small-pox; and no person except the physician, nurse or parent, should be allowed to enter or go near the house, or touch any article used therein, until after thorough disinfection. The funerals of all persons dying of this disease should be strictly private. The same precautions should be observed in the management of scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria and other infectious diseases.

By the promptness and efficiency of the Board of the county boards the disease was effectively controlled in many localities last year. In other counties no such precautions were taken at the outset, and the disease was only checked after serious loss of life, great interference with business, from the panic incident to an epidemic of this disease, and an expenditure of money, which, if judiciously used in systematic vaccination, hereof, would have given perfect immunity to every citizen in the community. Here, as in many other things, an ounce of prevention is not only better but cheaper than a pound of cure.

In this, and all other matters pertaining to the public health, the State Board looks to the full extent of its powers, and all physicians of the State are requested to promptly notify this office, as well as their local boards, of the first outbreak of this or any other communicable disease in their respective communities.

By order of the Board.
J. N. McCormack,
Secretary.

To Our Correspondents.

As some of our correspondents are unknown to us personally, we would be glad if all of them would send in their names and post office addresses to us next week, as we wish to correspond with them in relation to the proposed correspondent's reunion on the 29th. We want all to be present.

Mrs. R. G. Averill, mother of Mr. W. H. Averill, of this city, and Mr. M. D. Averill, of this county, died at her old homestead, near Farmdale, Thursday night, in the 82d, year of her age. The funeral will take place this morning from the residence of Mr. W. H. Averill, in this city. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. P. Humphrey, of Louisville, her old pastor.

Now that the city is requiring every one to fix up the sidewalks in front of their property, and in fixing up those of persons who refuse to obey the order, we would suggest that about the worst piece of sidewalk on this side of the river is in front of the city's property at the north end of the St. Clair street bridge, and move that the city do a little fixing up herself while it is fashionable.

There is great complaint among laborers and mechanics, who have to do outdoor work, about the change of the city clock from the old to standard time, as it inconveniences them no little. They cannot get in a full day's work at this time of year under the old arrangement, and the new makes the day much shorter for them. Other cities have refused to change their time to correspond with the railroad and why should we? Let us go back to that which is old, tried and proved good, rather than hold to a new-fangled notion.

Officer L. L. Conway, while walking his lent Saturday night, about one o'clock, heard some one snoring in a goods box sitting under the table used by the street vendor of tin, near the corner of St. Clair and Main, and upon investigation found two boys stowed away in it. They were little fellows about ten years of age, and when questioned gave their names as Paul Sullivan and William McGee, and said they had run away from home, the former living in East Louisville and the latter in Jefferson county a mile out from the city. They were taken to the Station House and locked up until their parents could be heard from. They said they walked a good portion of the way up and rode the balance on a freight train.

Frankfort Military Band was out serenading Thursday night and made some splendid music. It has been organized only a short time, but has made rapid progress. Most of the members being old musicians it required but a short time for them to become proficient performers, and they now have an organization which will compare favorably with any similar one in the State, and our people should see to it that they receive sufficient encouragement to keep it up. The ROUNDABOUT man was not forgotten in their rounds Thursday night, and he returns thanks for the sweet music furnished at his residence. Anyone desiring the services of the band should call on Mr. Wm. Mendeville the manager, giving him twelve hours notice.

County Attorney Jas. A. Violet, Constable Ambrose Polsgrove, of Bald Knob District, and Mr. Jerry Williamson returned Monday afternoon from a trip through Madison, Estill, Lee and Owsley counties in search of Eatis, Ouan and Washburn, the men, who, several weeks ago ravished Mrs. Chris and her daughter, on Sand Ripple in this county. They got on a warm trail of the men, and followed it for a week until it was finally lost and they were compelled to return home. They were unable to obtain horses and had to travel over the mountains on foot which was such slow progress that their game easily left them behind. So far as they heard from them the fugitives were armed with shot-guns and evidently did not intend to be taken without a fight. They represented themselves as hunters going to the mountains in search of game.

Let the city fix up its own pavement at the north end of the St. Clair street bridge before forcing citizens to repair pavements which are not in half as bad repair.

Little Arthur, infant child of Capt. G. M. Woods, died at the family residence in this city Saturday morning, aged six months. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon.

Notwithstanding the fact that every Governor we have issues his proclamation setting apart the last Thursday in November as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer, it is a rare occurrence that one of them attends divine service on that day.

Miss Lorena Monsch, of this city, sister of Mrs. George Buhr, and Mr. Eugene P. M. Crenz, a prominent young lawyer of Newport, were married on Thursday afternoon at the Catholic Church, by Rev. Father L. Young. The church was filled to its utmost capacity some time before the hour set for the wedding, with the friends of the fair young bride, who is very popular with all who know her. An artistically arranged pair of gates made of amilax were placed at the head of the centre aisle, which were opened at the approach of the bridal party by Masters George Buhr, Jr., and Sam Major, Jr.

The following was the order in which the party came in: Hon. Thos. P. Carrothers, of Newport, D. L. Waid, of New York, Louis Killinger, Ed. Johnson, and L. C. Eisenmuth, of Newport, ushered, followed by Miss Emma Wilson and Hon. W. L. Jackson, of Louisville, attendants, and next came little Misses Delma Crutcher and Florence Buhr, beautifully dressed and bearing baskets of flowers, followed by the bride and groom. After the ceremony the party repaired to the Buhr Hotel, where they were serenaded by the Frankfort Military Band. At 10 o'clock, p. m., the bridal party left in carriages for Georgetown, where they prepared an elegant home for his bride.

Mrs. Mary Jenkins is on the sick list. The turkey family begins to get danger. The Missouri fever is at blood heat in this vicinity.

Mr. J. W. Jenkins make a business trip to Lexington this week.

Born—Nov. 18th, 1883, to Mr. Oscar Roberts and wife, a daughter.

Mrs. Fannie Parrott was quite sick last week, but is about well now.

Mr. J. P. Morris (Sank) and family, of Farmdale, visited Sam. O. Crockett and family last Sunday.

Our mail carrier failed to make connection last week. Hence our failure to put in an appearance.

Regular services at South Benson Church tomorrow at eleven o'clock. Rev. W. T. Llewellyn pastor.

A letter dated San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 13th, from Dr. W. Lee Crutcher, states all well and progressing finely.

Mrs. Susan Jenkins, wife of Mr. A. Jenkins, of Gratiotburg, has been quite ill during the past several weeks.

Dr. Geo. Chinn is very much improving his premises by repairing his dwelling and putting up additional buildings.

Miss Jennie Cook, of Belle Point, has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Lee Sanders, during the past three weeks.

Mr. Wm. Barger accidentally shot and killed a negro boy at his home in Shelby county, near Gratiotburg, last week.

Mrs. Woods, of Illinois, after an absence of twenty-three years, is visiting her brothers, Messrs. Jas. and Alfred Read, in this section.

Born—Nov. —, 1883, to Mr. Jas. Dunagan and wife, a daughter.

Also Nov. —, 1883, to Mr. Pierce Masten and wife, a son.

Parents seldom, if ever, visit their school. Thereby showing to their offspring that they consider education of very little importance. Not infrequently, too, is it the case that parents stop their children from school because of punishment justly received at the hands of the teacher, which is simply licensing the youth of the land to engage in crime. This question is one of vital importance demanding the careful consideration of those who have intrusted to their keeping immortal souls.

The suit instituted by Col. Thos. B. Ford for $25,000 railroad taxes justly due the poor school teacher is a prize worthy at that considerate education of very little importance of every teacher in the State, and not only so, but every sympathizer in our school interest should buckle on the armor and fight for the right. The Circuit Judge's refusal to act in the matter is but an evidence of his opposition to it. His honor no doubt expects to retire to private life when his term expires. As by this act he forfeits all claim to the suffrage of the teachers in his judicial district.

Ah, well, the poor Pedagogue is able to stand it, being used as he is to poor pay and half rations.

Mr. W. B. Thompson, of the firm of McKenzie & Thompson, of Versailles, and Mrs. Nora Bishop, of this city, were married Tuesday afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother, in South Frankfort, Rev. Father L. Young officiating.

E. P. BRYAN, Agent.

W. B. Luckett has had a telephone placed in his residence. His number is 81.

Dr. Wilbur, who was reported to have died of heart disease a short time after he left here, is now in Memphis.

Elder P. S. Fall will preach at the Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. There will be no service at night.

The soiree at the residence of Mr. H. Polsgrove in Belle Point, Thursday evening, was largely attended, and immensely enjoyed.

The ladies of the Methodist Church gave a Japanese Tea at the Court House last night, which was well attended and the receipts gratifying.

The enterprising citizens of Benson street, in Belle Point, have put up street lamps, which makes walking much more safe at night than heretofore.

Miss Nannie Browder entertained a number of her young friends in handsome style Thursday evening. The occasion was a very pleasant one indeed to those who were present.

Mr. L. A. DeLine, of Taylorton, has been awarded a handsome medal by the Southern Exposition at Louisville upon his apparatus for refining, purifying and aging alcoholic liquors.

Mr. Ed. Harris and Miss Mattie Young were married Tuesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at St. John's A. M. E. Church, Rev. J. W. Asbury officiating, in presence of a large company of friends, both white and colored.

A number of young farmers from the western and northern portions of this county have rented land in Woodford, Jessamine, and other Blue grass counties and will go to that section next year to raise tobacco.

John K. Polk, of Harrodsburg, who killed Mart Owens with a shotgun in Rockcastle county, Thursday of last week, was a brother of Mr. Theodore Polk, formerly of this city, and was raised here, making his home with Mr. Fielding Reddick.

Mr. W. M. Terrell and Miss Addie Warren, of Ball Knob, were married Wednesday morning in the show-room of the military department of Messrs. Harris & Herrmann's Arcade, Judge R. A. Thompson performing the ceremony.

Mr. James M. Wakefield gave an elegant Thanksgiving supper at his residence, a mile and a half from the city on the Glen's Creek pike, Thursday evening, to which a number of ladies and gentlemen from this city were invited, and enjoyed themselves very much.

On Monday the Governor pardoned David Atkins, sent to the Penitentiary for life from Knox county for murder. He is sixty years of age and nearly dead with consumption. He was so weak that he had to be taken to the depot on a litter and then carried in the arms of four men into the car.

Monday night the City Council rejected all bids for the lease of the store-rooms under the City Hall, and referred the matter to a committee. Mr. John Haly's bid being the lowest received for the new sidewalk in front of the City Hall, he was awarded the contract. The walk is to be of flag stones similar to that in front of Buhr's Hotel.

Notice.

I have bought the News Business of Mr. Jno. B. Dryden and will promptly fill all orders for goods in my line from this date. I can be found at Griffin's old stand, St. Clair street.

L. B. MARSHALL.

Proposals to build the new Presbyterian Church in South Frankfort have been advertised for.

Fresh lot of the nicest French candies just received at Jas. M. Todd's.

BOARDING.—A few boarders by the day week or month. Wanted by Mrs. R. B. McKee, at LeCompte house, near Iron Bridge.

The ROUNDABOUT man was met on the street Thursday morning by a man, who, by his dress and appearance showed, that he had just been released from the Penitentiary who stopped him with the remark, "you are a newspaper man, are you not?" and on being informed that he was correct, proceeded: "I have just gotten out for five years, and was sent from Christian county. I want you to say something for me about the kindness of Capt. Todd to the convicts under his charge; for I could not speak too highly of him; even had I the education to write what I would like to have said. He is a gentleman in every respect and knows how to treat the men who are so unfortunate as to be sent there. And the ladies, too, who go there every Sunday afternoon, and are so kind in trying to reform those men; tell them I shall always remember their kindness to me.

"I worked seventeen months on the railroad and I cannot express in words the contempt I feel for the men who have charge of the convicts up there. They nearly killed me by their treatment. I was a young man when I came here, but I am not fit for much now, though I hope to recruit up after a while. Mr. Hoge himself is a gentleman, but the men under him do not treat those poor fellows up there like they were human; any brute would fare better than they do.

"Please say this for me, as I want Capt. Todd and the ladies to know that I appreciate their kindness."

F. G. MONTGOMERY, Manager.

Many who long suffer from urinary and digestive diseases, causing anorexia, weakness and debility, after trying bitters, kidney medicines, iron medicines, etc., without benefit, have found permanent relief in from one to three bottles of Dr. Cassell's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, the only perfect blood purifier and strengthener. Hundreds of letters to the proprietors have testified to its superiority over the many pretended cures so largely advertised by means of bogus certificates that are bought and paid for.
